Topic : ‘When Pregnancy is Injurious to Health.....’

Summary : Every department comes across women in reproductive age and hence deals with pregnant women. Pregnancy may alter the course of a disease or pregnancy outcome may be altered by co-existing disease. At times a co-existing medical or surgical disorder may be diagnosed first time during pregnancy. Sometimes obstetric complications may put mother and fetus at risk of morbidity and mortality. Thus, it is not infrequent that we clinicians have to advise termination of pregnancy in order to save the health of a mother and the same will be discussed.
