Young Medical Faculty Ph.D. program (2024)

JIPMER and ICMR have recently signed a Memorandum of Agreement for a collaboration Young Medical Faculty PhD program which aims to motivate the young medical faculty, particularly from clinical departments, to pursue Ph.D. in the biomedical field. The program is intended to create a pool of young physician-scientists in the country who can further undertake impactful biomedical research.

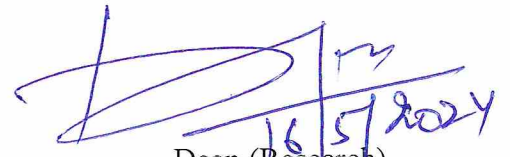

The process of application, and selection will be as follows:

- ICMR-DHR shall support a maximum of three (3) young faculty members from JIPMER preferably from clinical disciplines, with a research grant of up to INR 50 lacs each for a total duration of up to five years or completion of Ph.D., whichever is earlier.
- JIPMER has to forward a list of up to six (6) faculty members along with their filled and signed application forms (to be submitted as PDF documents) in the prescribed format (format for application, concept note, and CV of prospective supervisors/co-supervisors attached) latest by 7th June, 2024 (Friday) to ICMR.
- The applications will then be reviewed by a selection committee chaired by Secretary DHR & DG, ICMR, comprising of experts nominated by DHR-ICMR and representatives from JIPMER who will evaluate applications and select candidates for support under the scheme.

Interested faculty members (below 45 years of age) should send in the applications in the prescribed format to the Office of the Dean (Research) for forwarding to ICMR.

Last date for the receipt of applications in the Dean Office, JIPMER: 3rd Jun 2024
