a) Criteria for consideration of award for residents (JR /SR), MSc, MPH, and PhD students presentation:

1. The postgraduate students, senior resident/PhD student can submit their unpublished work-thesis/original work as abstracts for submission. These will be considered for oral/poster presentation.

2. For published works, the postgraduate students, senior resident/PhD student should either be the first or the corresponding author of that paper. In case first author is not available the corresponding author can nominate in writing any co-author to present the paper. The research paper should have been published between January 2017 to January 2019 .The candidate must submit the full paper as a PDF file along with the abstract .The criteria for best paper would also include impact factor of the journal plus citations received for the paper.

3. The paper should be based on research conducted in JIPMER by the candidate. Papers published as original research; short communication or research letters are acceptable. Systematic reviews with meta-analysis will also be considered (systematic or narrative reviews alone without meta-analysis will not be accepted). Single patient case reports/short series (containing 10 or less patients), images, ultrasound corner and other minor articles will not be considered.

(c) Criteria for consideration of award for UG presentation:

1. It will be based on the presentation by the student for GJ STRAUS. This will include a

GJ STRAUS award of Rs. 10,000/- for each student.

Best paper awards will be given as like in other categories to winners.

ICMR paper presentations will be considered for best poster award.
